Art Appreciation for Seniors (Ages 50+)

4 Weeks: April 3, 10, 17, 24

Archie Perrin

The course is designed to increase your appreciation, but also you awareness of the tremendous role which art plays in today's society vs. other periods in history and prehistory. Both the lecture and adjacent discussion will be illustrated with "slides" from the computer. The lectures will, of course, give a brief overview of what is to be seen. This is a basic course, and you are not expected to know anything in particular. I am really looking forward to this course and not having to do much of the academic grind which I did for forty years at Albright College.

Synopsis from Theatrical Rights Worldwide

“Celebrate the wackiness in every family with our best-selling Broadway musical adapted for middle school-age performers! Wednesday Addams, the ultimate princess of darkness, has grown up and fallen in love with a sweet, smart young man from a respectable family whom her parents have never met. She confides in her father and begs him not to tell her mother. Now, Gomez Addams must do something he’s never done before— keep a secret from his beloved wife, Morticia. Everything will change for the whole family on the fateful night they host a dinner for Wednesday’s “normal” boyfriend and his parents.”
